pH Paper Indicator strips, books and reel

Plastic pH strips, test books, and reels enable quick and easy pH determination in a broad range of water-based solutions. Unlike standard pH papers, which can bleed dyes into the sample, the indicators in these strips are firmly bound to the paper matrix. Consequently, no colorant is transferred to the test solution, regardless of the pH value. Because of this, the strips are especially well suited for weakly ionic solutions, as they may be left in the sample for longer periods without compromising either the sample or the measurement.
